ABSTRACT

The suggestions for learning activities in career education at the primary level (K-3) are presented with the aim of establishing career awareness related to six occupational clusters: public service, health occupations, agribusiness occupations, consumer homemaking and related occupations, personal services, and transportation. The activities are presented under the headings of four domains of career consciousness: self-knowledge and interpersonal skills, knowledge of work and leisure worlds, career planning knowledge and skills, and basic studies and occupational preparation. Activities, resources, and evaluation are presented separately for grades K-3, according to the domains and objectives, and showing relationships with academic subject areas in Grades 1-3. Suggested points for developing the students' interviewing skills are appended. (EC)

Today, more than ever, our attention is focused upon the curriculum and how relevant it is to the needs of our students. Actually, patterns of curriculum development over the past years no longer fit the needs of today's students. Society today and its future is of great concern to all of us and with the reforms and refocusing of education, so that what is taught in the classroom has a bearing on the students; future plans are the essence of career education.

The planning of one's career cannot be a hit and miss affair in the present world of work. Teachers must be aware of the many options that are open to the students and take the proper measures to make self awareness available for their students. If this is done, careers for students of today and in the future will emerge, the kind of careers that are needed for today's student.

These guides in career education are the result of much dedicated labor by our committee which has made them available. The guide itself will have no value unless concerned teachers use it as a tool for students to acquire fundamental skills, mechanical and academic, needed in their future planning.

If by using this guide, career education becomes more meaningful for a sizeable number of our students in the R-6 Schools, the grant from the Vocational Division of the Missouri State Department of Education and the work of our local committee will be immeasurable. But let us not forget that the classroom teacher is still the most important factor in the making of any curriculum relevant and we feel, in the R-6 Schools, that we have quality teachers for that task.

Superintendent of Schools

PHILOSOPHY

A program of public supported education designed to meet the needs of a democratic society must provide for a series of learning activities for all individuals in harmony with maturity, needs, abilities, and aptitudes. (First paragraph Festus R-6 District Philosophy)

It follows that our young people need to have an understanding of the opportunities open to them. Beginning at an early age, they must learn what work means, the careers open to young people today, and the careers that may emerge in the future. They need to know the obligations and requirements of those careers that are of interest to them, and they must acquire the specific skills--not just mechanical skills but the fundamental academic skills too.

Education in the classroom has a clear, demonstrable bearing on the student's future plans.

OBJECTIVES FOR CAREER EDUCATION FOR STUDENTS OF THE R-6 SCHOOLS

1. Develop good attitudes toward learning and work and an awareness of the relationship between education and life roles.
2. Develop self-awareness and awareness for individuals' places and responsibility to our society.
3. Develop an appreciation for the constructive use of leisure time.
4. Develop an awareness of the world of work.
5. Develop decision making skills.
6. Develop economic awareness leading to economic understanding.
7. Develop technical awareness and beginning competence.
8. Develop employability skills leading to career placement.

THE FOUR DOMAINS OF A CAREER CONSCIOUS PERSON
(Life Career Development-A Model, UMC-SDE, Gysberg, Moore)

1. Self Knowledge and Interpersonal Skills

This includes the awareness of self and others, the strengths and weaknesses, the likes and dislikes, the desires, etc. To develop those skills so that the student can relate effectively to other people.

2. Knowledge of Work and Leisure Worlds

This includes an opportunity to develop an understanding of the limitations that society places on an individual--sociological, psychological, and economic; to learn about pay, hours, fringe benefits, the cost of leisure activities, to choose because of the amount and the kind of personal satisfaction desired from work and leisure activities, to see the relationship of career and leisure time.

3. Career Planning Knowledge and Skills

This includes the elements of the decision-making process: gathering information from all relevant sources, using the information collected and making informed and reasonable decisions, reasonably predicting the future and foreseeing alternatives to meet the requirements of a preferred life career.

4. Basic Studies and Occupational Preparation

This includes mastering the basic skills of the language arts, mathematics, science, social studies, fine arts, physical education, industrial arts and vocational education. These skills will be learned relevant to occupational preparation, settings and events of a total life career development. A background will be presented to learn the skills for seeking employment, for further education, for obtaining entry-level employment, and for achieving satisfaction in a preferred occupational area.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT CONCEPT

1. Understand and accept self as important throughout life.
2. People have dignity and worth.
3. Education and work are interrelated, both are honorable.
4. Occupations exist for a purpose.
5. Work means different things to different people.
6. There is a wide variety of careers.
7. Individuals differ in interest, abilities, attitudes, and values.
8. Supply and demand affect career planning.
9. Environment and one's potential affect career choice.
10. Occupation and life style are related.
11. Specialization creates greater dependence.
12. One's development requires continuous choice of careers.
13. Individuals can perform adequately in several occupations.
14. Individuals must be flexible in a changing society.
15. Individuals are responsible for career planning.

FESTUS R-6 CAREER EDUCATION

The aim of career education is to equip students with what they need to make informed occupational decisions by relating the World of Learning to the World of Work. Along the way they will have opportunities to investigate a variety of jobs and to explore their mental, physical and emotional capacities for handling them.

In the R-6 Schools, Kindergarten through Seventh is the "Career Awareness" phase. Children are introduced to the concept of work and jobs, the need for work and the variety of ways people earn a living. Lessons at first center on the roles played by different family members, then branch out to cover different kinds of occupations pupils see around the school. Policemen, firemen, and other workmen familiar to children are studied. The student's strengths and weaknesses are discovered. Information about all this will be presented as a part of the regular learning activities, not as separate lessons. All fifteen clusters (OE-72-39) are covered. In the activity of learning the alphabet drills would be a good opportunity for the teacher to point out how file clerks and others use letters to organize their work.

"Career Exploration" takes place in the eighth and ninth grades. Students narrow their fields of interest to three or four clusters, which they explore in depth. By the time they finish junior high school, students should have a good idea of the types of jobs that interest them and be able to make a tentative choice of several that interest them the most.

In the senior high program, students begin to acquire actual job skills in these fields. Such skills as drafting are made available to everyone, even students that are going to college. The idea is to give all students an opportunity to pursue training and study that could lead directly to a job after high school or to further training and study at a technical institute, business school, two or four-year college and beyond.

By exposing young people to information about work and jobs and careers starting in the earliest years of school, helping them to see the relevance of their education, the result could be a stronger motivation to learn and to stay in school long enough to acquire some basic skills needed to earn a living. The program is aimed at the academically talented students, too, who often finish high school with little idea of what it is to earn a living by doing the necessary work of our society. For them, Career Education will supply information and experience that widens their horizons and increases their career choices.

OCCUPATIONAL CLUSTERS

For ease in informing students about the wide range of occupations they have been categorized into fifteen broad clusters. The listing below shows the sequence of assigned clusters by grade level. The teacher is free to touch on other clusters as well.

These guides have been written in order not to shortchange any of our students in career education (as this will be the first year of the program). The committee hopes that as the full implementation of career education develops, the emphasis on the different levels will more nearly coincide with the Missouri Model.

Basic Education- teachers may select appropriate activities (as needed from the master guide) to fit the individual student's chronological and mental needs and abilities.

Introduction K-3

These career activity guides are the result of awareness of the glaring need to help children learn about the world of work and their opportunities and alternatives in this world.

Grade groups vary in their background, therefore, it is suggested that the teachers use those concepts and activities which apply to the needs and interest of the children. The activities listed in the guides are merely suggestions and should be supplemented and changed to fit the classroom needs and interest.

It should be remembered that most young students have short range goals. They are interested in things that are useful or stimulating to them today, therefore, it is necessary to motivate and stimulate interest in careers again and again.

OBJECTIVE: To develop self awareness. The individual will understand how people are alike and different.

ACTIVITIES	RESOURCES	EVALUATION

OBJECTIVE: To develop concept of work and identify work roles at home and at school. To develop positive attitudes toward work.

ACTIVITIES	RESOURCES	EVALUATION
1. The teacher will take pictures of the custodian, school nurse, principal, secretary, cooks, guidance counselor, curriculum director, superintendent, librarian, music teacher, art teacher, P. 2. Each of the above school personnel will be invited to visit the classroom. The custodian will be invited one day, the nurse on another day, etc. Teacher will ask each person to explain his work role. Each person could bring any tools or equipment that he uses for his job. Ex: Have building custodian explain his work role--what he does during the day and what the custodian must do each night to get ready for the next day.
